

HomeConvenience.com Introduces New Family Center Functionality

HomeConvenience.com introduces their new Family Center area of the site to provide families with easy access to key information, and to print commonly needed forms.

Saratoga Springs, New York, September 19th, 2006 -- HomeConvenience.com (www.HomeConvenience.com), formally introduced the Family Center area of their site today. This is an area of the site where the Users can get some good summary information for the whole family; and also print some useful forms.

Through the use of the dynamic “Print Family Center Forms” wizard, the user will be able to quickly customize and print an Emergency Contact Form, Baby Sitter Checklist, or a Member Profile Form. Many Users will find these forms quite useful for things such as providing the Baby Sitter/Day Care Provider with some critical information about where they’ll be, how to reach them, etc. Further, the Emergency Contact Form proves useful to have all that information readily available to provide to your child’s athletic team, etc. Finally, the Member Profile provides information about the individual Users including gift lists, clothing sizes, etc.

“Unlike other online calendars, HomeConvenience.com is specifically focused on meeting the needs of today’s busy families. With the addition of the Family Center, we continue to demonstrate our commitment to this goal.” said Bob Krulcik, the company’s President and CEO.
